FRIDAY JUNE 24.

It justice keeps on taking big strides in New York and Chicago, there will be a heavy decline in bootleg.

The White House is still trimmed with sash and shades, and the beating of the drum is dolefully heard in and about the premises.

Mr. Blaine is doing some excellent work in Great Britain. He makes no speeches, carries a level head, and is having lots of fun.

The Michigan senate has passed the House bill to tax mortgages. The bill provides that the tax shall be paid by the mortgagor; if the mortgagor resides in another state and does not pay the tax the mortgage can be seized and sold.

Schwartz and Watt, recently convicted of murdering Nichols, the express messenger of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad between Joliet and Morris, Ill., were lodged in the Joliet penitentiary to serve out their life sentence.

It is rumored in military circles that the following order has been issued:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., (General Order No. 1.) General Robert C. Devan, of Pennsylvania, is relieved from duty in the Adjutant-General's department and will report immediately for seaport duty to President Cleveland.

WILLIAM C. ENDWELL, Secretary of War.

General Butler on the flag business: "I do not blame the president for doing this. Where could he have gotten the knowledge in his former life to know enough not to do it? It was not his misfortune that he did not know anything on this subject. He acted according to the light he had, and he had no cabinet to give him any more on it."

In New York, the ear-stove must go. The bill passed by the legislature has been signed by the governor, but it does not go into effect till May 1, 1888. Recent experiments have shown conclusively the feasibility of heating cars by steam from the engine, and travellers may soon feel sure that whatever else may happen, they are not in danger of being roasted alive.

A PRACTICAL INVENTION.

One Meeting the Requirements of and Endorsed by the Public, and Especially by During the Hot And Bitter Months.

Celloid dollars and cents were first conceived by one of our Chicago men—Mr. R. H. Sanborn—who after spending months in experimenting, finally adopted the method now in use, which consists of using an interlacing of textile or fibrous fabric of the body, instead of getting the strength and flexibility by stitching, and then coating the same with celloid up both sides and at the edges rendering the same perfectly water and perspiration proof. Patents were issued to Mr. R. H. Sanborn, A. A. Sanborn and C. O. Kaukonen, March 5, 1878, and were sold by them to the Celloid Novelty Co., who since that date have been manufacturing the goods under said patents, and have met with such success in the sales that articles of so much merit deserve. From year to year the ever increasing demand has continued, and to-day the goods are used by the millions of people in every part of the world. Other manufacturers have tried to place upon the market goods of a like nature, but have as yet not met with any success, and are failing, their efforts being to control and methods that would enable them to manufacture goods up to the standard of the celloid. The inventors, Mr. R. H. and A. A. Sanborn, are still connected with the company. Mr. A. A. Sanborn is superintendent of the manufacture, and Mr. R. H. Sanborn as western agent for the sale of goods with office and saleroom located at 145 Fifth avenue, Chicago, carrying a large stock of the goods, sufficient at all times to fill with dispatch all orders received.

Mr. H. Rider Haggard's list of books which have influenced him in his career as an author consists of "Robinson Crusoe," "The Arabian Nights," "The Three Musketeers," Poe, Macaulay, etc., etc. His favorite novels are Dickens' "The Tale of Two Cities" and Lytton's "The Coming Race." His favorite book in the Bible is Ecclesiastes.

Labors of a Prince.

Prince Almanzor Halmy has nearly completed his historical work on Egypt, which will contain long articles on the Soudan and the Pyramids. He will next devote himself to unravelling the mysterious connection between "Masonic rites" and the early Egyptian ceremonial. Boston Budget.

Eclipse of the Sun.

The total eclipse of the sun on Aug. 19 will be visible all over Russia from the Baltic to eastern Siberia. Astronomers from the United States, England, Russia, Germany, Italy and France are invited to observe the phenomenon from at least five different stations—Astrakan, Terek, etc.

Gen. Meagher's Wounds.

Gen. Meagher, the French minister of war, has been severely wounded in his left arm, which is a carpenter's tool. Between 1859 and 1871 inclusive he was wounded four times in the Franco-German war he had his elbow broken by a bullet.

Mr. Custer's Correspondence.

Mr. Custer is a conscientious correspondent. "Boots and Saddles" has called out to date some 200 letters of inquiry or congratulation, and she has answered them every one.

We Caution All Against Them.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—A real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many advertisers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to reap the unmerited profits of Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A portion is applied into each nostril; no pain, agreeable to use. Price 50 cents.

THE PENNSYLVANIA BREWERS.

A short time ago the brewers of Pennsylvania issued a call for a convention to take defensive measures, presumably against the spread of the prohibition sentiment. In the call they say: "Trade is placed in such a position that we must fight or die." A similar movement has

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

COMPTROLLER TRENHOLM ON THE SITUATION.

He Sees no Cause for Alarm—Discusses an Extra Session of Congress—Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Mr. Trenholm, comptroller of the currency, referring to the recent financial flurry in the West, said, yesterday:

"The business of the country is, I should say, in good condition generally. A safe and satisfactory business is being done, and, in the main, it is conservative. There seems to me to be nothing to cause apprehension or to anticipate any great financial disarrangement."

"There is not a somewhat dangerous tendency to speculate in real estate."

"In a measure, yes, although I do not want to be understood as saying that the banks are not properly protecting themselves."

"Have the recent gains in the New York coffee market and the Chicago grain market any real significance?"

"None, I think. Now that the cliques have broken it is a good thing, because the money that has been locked up will again go into active circulation, and business, which is always injuriously affected by manipulation, will resume its normal condition."

"Do you notice any tightness in the money market?"

"There appears to be enough money in the country. The turnover of bank circulation consequent upon the extinguishment of the 2 per cent. loan at the end of the present month will not be felt, because the treasury will make some very large payments in July."

"The return to low prices of breadstuffs consequent upon the failure of bull speculation will cause a resumption of exports and place this country in a position to draw from abroad any supplies of gold necessary to bring the volume of currency up to the requirements of the autumn. I can close by commending by saying that I regard the business of the country as in good shape, and with reasonable caution and prudence we may look ahead and see good times before us."

Discusses an Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The question can be judged by expression obtained from various public men now visiting Washington, the question of an extra session is an open one, upon which opinions differ widely. While the treasury treasury next month is estimated not to exceed $25,000,000, which amount will be supplied by deposits of public money in national bank depositories, large pension payments and other disbursements under the new appropriation will ensue. It is believed that the money market will be severely affected in September and October, and that the extra session will be indispensable to avoid monopoly of the treasury, especially to liquidate the enormous debts which are held in large numbers by the government, because of the future increase of surplus in the Treasury, and therefore many publicists believe that the pressure for an early meeting of Congress to facilitate the reduction of revenue taxation will be irresistible. On the other hand, the Treasury authorities are now of opinion that no immediate necessity exists for convening Congress earlier than the regular session in December.

Rumor of Democratic Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The Star last night said: "The presence of many prominent Democrats in Washington just now seems to lend color to the rumor that is to be a conference with regard to party policy, revenue reduction, etc. Among the leading Democrats now here are Senators Brown, Hanson, Cockrell, Gorman, Brown, Representatives McCrory, Holman, Wilson, of West Virginia, Crisp and Gov. Knott, of Kentucky. There are many others here, and it is said that Speaker Carlisle will arrive soon."

SONS OF AMERICA.

Principles of the Order as Shown by Its Officers.

CORVALLUS, June 24.—The Patriotic Order of the Sons of America closed their eleventh national convention, Thursday. The most important act of the convention was the passage of the platform and principles of the order as follows:

"For the welfare, prosperity, and liberty of all American citizens and their descendants, we desire to protect our form of government, and to preserve it from the influences and control of any foreign power. By disseminating sentiments of loyalty and establishing a fraternal feeling among all Americans we hope to make it impossible for any one to live under the protection of the stars and stripes, who does not honor and revere them."

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening at Post headquarters.

—The directors of the Building and Loan Association will meet this evening, at the law office of John M. Whitehead.

—A. E. Burpee is building a new lumber office on the land recently bought by him from the Fifield estate. He expects to rent his present location for a coal yard.

—People's Lodge No. 400, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in Court Street N. E. church block.

—Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Augusta Heise will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the house. The Rev. W. F. Brown will officiate.

—This morning Superintendent Keyes took under his wing the High school class of '91. Miss Helen Welch sent twenty-four pupils and Miss Northrop nine, making a membership of thirty-three.

—Two HUNDRED BOYS WANTED—to report at the east side engine house on Monday evening, June 27th, to arrange to take part in the Fourth of July carnival. Frank L. Hayden will give all detailed particulars.

—The water power owners are complaining of the low stage of water in the river. It seems that the reservoir gates at the lake were left open early in the spring and the lake drained before any one discovered that the gates were open.

—The ladies of the Concordia society will give a concert at the Guards' armory Monday, June 27th, for the purpose of raising money to pay for their new banner, which is to be the flag of any society in the state. It is to cost about $300.

—The Rev. S. P. Wilder, the new pastor of the Congregational church, attended the commencement exercises of Beloit college. Mr. Wilder was a member of the class of '71, and at the meeting of the alumni he was elected vice-president, and also appointed a member of the board of conference.

—Since about the first week in May the receipts of fat cattle at Chicago have been at great values, have in the meantime, declined $1 to $1.25 per 100 pounds. Beef, quality considered, was never cheaper on either side of the Atlantic. The American cattle grower and the American exporter are losing more money than at any time in the history of the beef trade.

—Galbraith Bros. received to-day two carloads of English coach horses. They are something new in the city, and are beauties. Such style and beauty are sure to breed carriage horses of the finest type. They have heads, necks, backs and bodies to please the most severe critics, nor is it possible to find fault with either their legs or feet. We would advise all lovers of good horses to see them.

—Street Commissioner Brown is having considerable trouble about the poll tax. "See here," remarks the patriotic citizen, "I've paid my tax for three years now, and not another man in the block has. I think I'll take a rest this time. Go and tackle some one else." This argument has a good many strong points. To the reader concerning the Janesville plant, Mr. Williams changed the subject by abruptly asking the reporter who prepared the article published the other evening in the Gazette relating to sewers, and being informed that it was prepared in the office, he said so fully concerned in the idea there expressed in favor of adopting a complete sewerage system for the city before commencing the construction. The sewer question is one which will bother the city a great deal until they adopt a complete system. And one of the greatest points to be settled will be the cutlets for the sewers. The city should not attempt to construct a sewer until a complete system has been adopted.

—The public generally will agree with Mr. Williams. He is a gentleman of very few words, yet he thoroughly understands the business he is engaged in. He will remain in the city superintending the building of the entire work and see that the contractors do the work according to plans and specifications.

From the above information our readers will see that the construction of the water works will be commenced at once. Mr. Gray, who has the contract for pipe laying, is the gentleman who put in the pipe at Beloit, and so well was the work done that not a leak was found in the entire pipe line at the official test.

—Just now the ladies of the city are giving considerable attention to silk raising. Two years ago Mrs. Phelps, of the fourth ward, secured a few silk worms, but here were the only ones in the city. Recently, however, Mrs. J. W. St. John and Miss Gussie MacLean have taken up the culture, and have been very successful, feeling decidedly proud of their establishments.

The worms are fed on osage orange leaves, mulberry leaves being hard to obtain. So for they are being raised principally for amusement, although their silk commands a ready sale at something over a dollar an ounce.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 51 degrees above zero. Clear with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m., the register was 82 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind.

For corresponding hours one year ago, the register was 61 and 75 degrees above zero.

—Mrs. Sarah C. Little started this morning to attend commencement exercises at Oberlin college. She will also make a trip to the Great Lakes.

—Walter C. Farnley graduated from the State University this week with the degree of Bachelor of Metallurgical Engineering, and is now visiting at the home of his uncle, Mr. E. Hathorn.
